

Introduction of OORI EARTH

From the first day of his inauguration, U.S. President Biden has expressed his strong commitment to responding to climate change by signing Executive Order to rejoin the Paris Climate Agreement. President Biden has also announced that he will set an example for the world by integrating climate change targets across all of our diplomacy.

The U.S. Embassy in Korea is also doing its best to make climate change a top priority for all our programs in 2021. At the heart of this effort, we have set up the embassy's own climate action network, "Oori EARTH." Oori EARTH will provide the latest news on the U.S. government's eco-friendly policies, and will provide participants with opportunity to be invited to environmental events hosted by the U.S. Embassy in Korea.

We invite all those who want to respond to climate change and take the lead in environment protection together with the U.S. government to OORI EARTH. If you would like to join us, please visit OORI EARTH website. If you scan the green QR code on the left with your mobile phone, you will be directly connected to the homepage.
